TORRANCE MAN'S FLEETF PLAN GETS MORE ATTENTI CONGRESSMEN PLAN ACTION

plan which came from the figuring pad, drawing board and the mind of Edsel Newton, Torrance and Long Beach newman, has taken hold of more thousands of people, without a dissenting voice.

Newton, 42, father of two young children, had from the Chamber of Commerce of a distant large city an invitation to speak before "the board?" He went home to romp with the youngest, Raymond Edsel, age 17 months, prefering to "wait." Congressmen Act Two members of Congress had wired for more details and planned a bill to create the feet out of the sitripus ships and planned a bill to create the feet out of the sitripus ships that will without doubt be available after the war is won. Newton, whose career has been ships and newspapers and newspapers and ships, with many an interesting experience in his notebooks, declined to "rush into anything." He is not after any amount of money, he explains, and prefers to give the nation and the United Nations a chance to sponsor the project rather than start promotional work himself.

"Two congressmen, a lawyer and another powerful for c," Newton said, are protecting his interests while telegraph wires carry more stories. A long story sent out Monday by United Press suggested, for one thing, that Henry Kaiser, meteor of war industry, be consulted for his views.

Riot of Color

Henry-Kaiser, meteor of war industry, be consulted for his views.

Riot of Color

The Fair-freet as planned by Newton would be made up of Liberty ships decked out in a riot of color around a central motif bettiting the overall purpose. The ships would be stripped of all but two cargo booms and all hatches would be come "trunk" type deckhouses. Off would come unneeded with fireproof materials and the latest in plastics and linoleums would be utilized on inside decks. Room would be needed for probably 100 crew and other personnel on each ship. The United States, the British Empire and Eastern Europe would be expected to take the greatest amount of exhibit space, but not overlooked are Latin America, Russia and the Orient.

Paying Phan

To be engineered are the spacing of exhibits in a manner so as to trim the ships, the easy problem of handling crowds over docks or over floats carried on the ships and the proper selection and distribution of the necessarily few hundred personnel. Newton says the cost of operating a fleet of 10 ships, with all personnel paid, would be between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 a year, while the exhibit space in one should seleving a few years would make it a porticable show," he concluded.
